Task 4. Paragraph 2.

Even if he had some opportunities to change, Oliver would never use them. He had been a strict man being an element of his company's structure for many years. It's worth mentioning that he changed his routine only once in a blue moon and trusted his beliefs until the final straw. However, that offer was so unusual that even such man as Oliver became interested in it.

Paragraph 4.

During the night he was thinking, "I've been working on this position for already ten years to make ends meet! How can I refuse to continue to do my stable job to begin an absolutely new one? But if I do it, what will happen?" Different fears attacked Oliver that time.

But, actually, he had already known the answer to his questions. And, finally, he did something unexpected.

Paragraph 6.

Oliver understood that all his beliefs could be incorrect. He wish he could think about such changes a few years ago, when he was a young man full of energy. By the time he had taken advantage of the decision he was about to make, he thought "My friends are always making me doubt too!" That offer changed his life completely. He began looking forward for his future and changed the environment.

Task 5.

1. Busybody - a person, who always tries to be aware of everything, even of things, which he/she shouldn't know.
2. To be poised to do something - somebody is predicted to do something, something is going to happen.

3. To agree to disagree - to stop the argument at the point, where there ^{are} no winners and losers.

4. Sluggish - something or somebody is slower than usual, than should be.

5. To pan out - to happen unlike there was predicted, don't approve the risks and waitings.
