Task 8

1. Breakfasts are now being served

This is a really good advertisement that people can find and see literally everywhere. On the billboards, on the internet, all over the city and country, right next to the place where those breakfasts serve. This advertisement refers to people who want to try those delicious breakfasts. Maybe even just simple hungry customers. People might take this advertisement into consideration because of the interesting design, style, name and message. I would totally try the restaurant's breakfast if I saw an advertisement like this one.
