Paragraph 2.

It was a ~~project offer~~ project offer that came once in a blue moon. As expected to be in one's element, Oliver believed his patience had finally paid off. It seemed to have everything Oliver had ever wished for. Had he taken it, he would have had a bigger payment, bendable schedule, small working hours and the final straw had been the promised bonus by the end of the project. (67)

Paragraph 4.

To be fair, Oliver has been struggling to make ends meet and the bonus would help him out by and large, covering his rent till the end of the year. If only he hadn't been so pathetic, he wouldn't be having such issues now. For the whole week anxiety has been consuming his consciousness. He has been wondering how will his life change after the project. (67)

Paragraph 6.

First thing he noticed was how posh everyone was acting, especially one man. With him bragging about his lavish life style, making Oliver a bit jealous. The deal seemed perfect, but Oliver was still reluctant to sign it. Eventually, he got persuaded into doing the project. Only after leaving the office did Oliver realise he was taken advantage of. "How can I be so naïve?" - he thought, regretting ~~what he did. (69)~~ everything. (69)
