Paragraph 2

If he had not been so cautious, he would have embraced the opportunity earlier, he had missed chances before due to his fear? Had he been more adventurous, he might have been in his element among innovators. Once in a blue moon he allowed himself a risky choice, but this time the project's vague demands felt like the final straw that would force him out of his comfort zone.

Paragraph 4

In recent months he has been struggling to reconcile risk with responsibility and not only has his family depended on his steady income, but also he has been trying to make ends meet while considering the move. By and large the project's promises appeared exciting, yet the compensation seemed to his mind pathetic compared with the uncertainty - a reality that intensified his reservations.

Paragraph 6

Now he is finding that colleagues are acting as if his hesitation were a flaw and he is constantly noticing subtle tests of commitment. I can't help but regret not negotiating terms earlier, I can only blame my being reluctant to ask detailed questions. The team seemed push and eager to take advantage of his skills and this realisation is making him doubt whether he made the right choice.

Task 5.

1. Busybody is a person, who likes to pry into other people's affairs, inquire and spread gossip.
2. To be poised to do something — to be ready to act, to be in anticipation of an immediate change or move.
3. To agree to disagree — to agree to end an argument, accepting differences of opinion for the sake of politeness and preserving the relationship.
4. Sluggish — slow, with decreased energy or delayed response and progress.
5. To pan out — to develop or end in a certain way to have a result that differs from expectations.

Task 6.

1. She had never experienced such pressure before.
2. I should have told you earlier.
3. I was impressed by his honesty.
4. She would have reacted differently if she had known the truth.

5. The plan is unrealistic to be believed.
6. Although he was exhausted, he kept working.
7. It was such a complicated task that few completed it.

Task 7.

1. ~~Newton did not develop the theory of evolution, but Darwin did.~~
Charles Darwin developed the theory of evolution by natural selection.
2. Einstein did not discover the structure of DNA, but Watson and Crick did.
3. Marie Curie did not invent the telephone, but Alexander Graham did.
4. Darwin did not discover gravity, Newton formulated universal gravitation.
5. Nikola Tesla is not responsible for developing the first steam engine.
