Paragraph 2

The programme ~~was~~ had a strange name:
~~"To turn a blind eye"~~, ~~etc~~
"To turn a blind eye". Clara had decided to decline the offer but at the back of her mind she knew:
~~It~~<sup>it</sup> was not a mistake, so she chose to wait. She ~~called~~<sup>told</sup> her mom: "I have been really surprised. If they realise that a mistake has been made they sooner or later delete a person from the group".

Paragraph 4.

Having forty-eight hours, Clara had thought about her prospects after the programme and accepted the offer in one go. It was hectic to know that she took an opportunity from another student but on the verge of success it did not matter. What she wanted to do or did to another people was only her decision, not decision of another people, her only road to success.

Paragraph 6.

Teachers were ~~talking~~<sup>saying</sup> that Clara must have given the chance to another student. When the exchange programme administrator explained the rules Clara <sup>was</sup> persuaded ~~herself~~: proving herself was worth any cost. She looked straight forward at her future knowing that she will have been succeeded in everything. Rewarding future <sup>ambitions</sup> gave her strength to take all the rumours for granted and believe in herself.
